TestAS

TO UNIVERSITY WITHOUT A STUDIENKOLLEG

If your foreign high school diploma is not recognized in Germany for admission to higher education institutes (direct or subject-based), we offer an exam that gives you the right to study at a German university. The TestAS examination is an alternative to the Studienkolleg which is a preparatory university program for non-EU citizens. In combination with German certificates such as TestDaF or telc Deutsch C1 Hochschule, plus a high school diploma, resume, and the TestAS examination, students from non-EU countries can also study at some of the largest universities in Germany without a Studienkolleg!

TestAS is a central standardized aptitude test for foreign students to assess their ability to study at colleges and/or universities. The test measures cognitive abilities and is aimed at applicants who are planning to study in Germany.

THE ADVANTAGES:

- Universities use TestAS as a selection/acceptance criterion
- TestAS is an alternative to the Studienkolleg
- You cannot fail the TestAS exam, but you can reach certain scores (on a classification scale up to 130 points)
- TestAS is available in German and English
- Fast track to university
